Totem

At the beginning of time, individuals had good luck charms or totems that they believed protected them from harm. As primitive people became more civilized, they began to live together in large groups or tribes. Because these tribes provided protection and security, the individuals offered their totems to symbolize what they gained from being part of the group, and the totem pole came to be.

These symbols of unity can be found on all Indian reservations, including the Port Neches-Groves High School Reservation. Totem poles symbolize unity, cooperation, and pride among the Tribe.

As members of real Indian tribes contribute their totems toward the making of the totem pole, so do the PN-G students contribute in their own way toward the building of the totem pole that is PN-G.

These emblems of unification can be found all over the Reservation in many sizes and forms. They can be as small as those found on senior rings, or as large as the one on the patio. However, regardless of their size or location, totem poles will always be representations of the uniqueness of PN-G.

The extracurricular activities available at PN-G are as varied as the types of totem poles, and like totem poles they unify the participants. Students take advantage of the opportunity to become involved in the school and with their fellow Indians by applying their talents to the activity of their choice.

Be it acting in "The Diary of Anne Frank," joining clubs, or participating in the Variety Show, PN-G students become unified through working together to achieve a desired goal.

Despite the work involved in gaining the final outcome and although we may sometimes be inclined to quit these activities, when the goal is finally reached, Indian pride shines through the hard work and we find that we really do enjoy 'em.

Scalp 'em

As ancient Indian dances involved the whole tribe but were only performed by select members of the reservation, so are athletics at PN-G supported by everyone in the school even though only a few students actually compete.

From September to May, PN-G athletes, both boys and girls, engage in a variety of sports ranging from football to golf, and from volleyball to baseball. Of course, this fact is not unique to PN-G, but what is special is the pride with which our athletes compete.

Win or lose, Indian athletes always perform with the sense of fair play characteristic of PN-G. We humbly accept our victories and carry ourselves proudly in defeat.

With the support of our fans we always go into a battle with a determination to scalp 'em.

Primitive people became civilized through using what was available to them — natural instinct, natural resources, and determination. They drew on their own skills to become successful.

The same can be said of those among the Tribe whom we honor. They deserve the recognition placed upon them as a result of skill, hard work, and determination.

Because of these qualities exhibited by students on the Reservation, PN-G was recognized by the Cherokee Nation in Tahlequah, Oklahoma, as a tribe which carries out the characteristics of pride typical to Cherokee Indians.

Skill, hard work, and determination — this is why we honor 'em.

Perhaps the most important people who unify PN-G students are the members of the Tribe who educate us — teachers, administrators, and School Board members.

It is through their support and encouragement that we become involved in school activities, sports, and class competitions.

We also follow their lead in achieving the goals in the classroom that we wish to reach. They encourage us to be individuals, but then to combine our totems when it is necessary.

It is the chiefs of the Tribe that direct the welfare of the Reservation. Therefore, we should always look up to those who teach 'em.

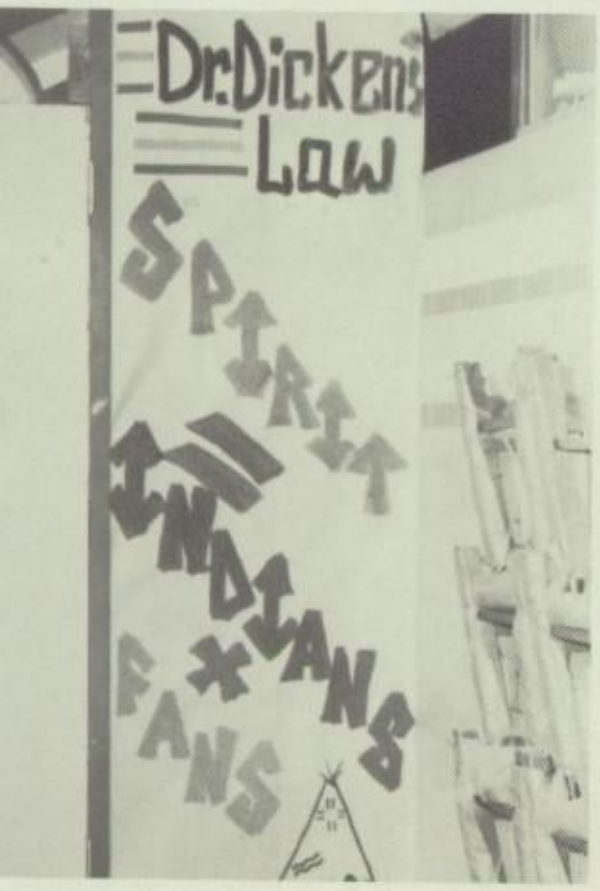
It is often times very easy for a school to become divided among its classes. However, at Port Neches-Groves High School the sense of unity is special, and the students and faculty recognize that fact.

Although classifications are very evident at the beginning of the school year, especially to seniors and sophomores, they soon become united into a Tribe that works and functions well together.

Throughout the year as students participate in class competition such as Homecoming activities, spirit chain, and Sir Twirp, the thought should be on their minds that even though there exists a special element in each class, we are all members of the mighty Port Neches-Groves High School Reservation and being an Indian comes before being a sophomore, a junior, or a senior — as we class 'em.

(Upper left) Indian twirlers pose together at the Homecoming football game. (Center left and right) Dr. Larry Dickens exhibits his spirit and creativity on his door. (Far left) Indian Spirit Erick Tallant watches over the football team as Head Coach Doug Ethridge leads them in prayer. (Left) Top candy salesperson Lisa Palombo bites into her prize. (Far upper right) Section co-editors Terri Waldrep and Stacey Sheppard enjoy their favorite activity — roaming the halls. (Lower right) Always willing, the cheerleaders take time out for a picture.



Indian pride shines through hard work and we find that we really do . . .

Homecoming highlights fall '79

Other nominees were Melana Dalby and Terri Waldrep, seniors; Sharon Brown and Liz Street, juniors; Bitty Boudreaux and Alicia Jackson, sophomores.

Candy sales returned this year as a part of the Homecoming competition. Last year's upset in the entire structure of the selection of Football Sweetheart resulted from worms being discovered in the chocolate covered almonds delivered by Worlds Finest Chocolate Company.

Each class readied with enthusiasm to sell candy in support of its candidate in hopes that she would be crowned.

The bars sold surprisingly well considering the damage to the candy sale reputation last year. About 18,000 bars were sold bringing in a net profit of $10,420, one on the highest in candy sale history.

After what seemed an endless three-year wait and two crushing disappointments, the seniors finally crowned their candidate, Lisa Palombo, Homecoming Sweetheart. The victory proved that the Variety Show is not necessarily the deciding factor in the sweetheart campaign. The seniors' landslide victory in the candy sales — almost double the second-place total — won the campaign for them with the final results reading seniors, first; sophomores, second; juniors, third.

Candy sales produce senior win

Variety, Texas style

At PN-G three classes are united as one. That is except during the month of October. This is when the annual Variety Show takes place, and what a busy month it is! With just three weeks to produce a script, theme, costumes, props, and to learn and rehearse parts, it is amazing to see how polished the shows turn out.

The Senior Class received the second place ranking with its theme of "Network PN-G TV on Debut." Taking third place award was the Sophomore Class presenting "The Media Explosion."

With approximately 350 students participating in the Variety Show, it is obvious that it is an eagerly awaited event at PN-G.

The JV cheerleaders had an exciting, fun-filled year as they worked to represent the players and fans alike at the junior varsity football, volleyball, basketball, and baseball games. In addition to their own responsibilities, the JV cheerleaders helped with a pep rally skit.

The eight girls were elected in the spring of their sophomore year. They attended camp at Sam Houston State University in July and in competition received three superior and one excellent ribbon and also won the spirit stick one night.

Sophomores spark spirit

At the beginning of each year there are eight girls chosen from the Sophomore Class to lead cheers. Traditionally, four girls from Port Nehces and four girls from Groves are selected.

The sophomore cheerleaders had a full year boosting the spirits of players and fans alike throughout football and basketball season. Besides their usual after-school practices and decorating lockers, they also participated in a pep rally skit.

This year the group received new pom poms and megaphones as well as new uniforms designed by Mrs. Terry McDougle, sponsor.

Indianettes, Ten-hut!!! The Indianettes had a rewarding but sometimes tiresome year. It began with practices for the annual drill team camp. The girls now proudly display 283 ribbons, 6 trophies and other individual honors.

Throughout the year the 80 girls attended all area parades, attended marching practice, supported locker boys and girls by decorating lockers and houses, and helped kick off the United Way campaign by performing at B. F. Goodrich.

A high point of the year was the Big sis-Lil sis announcement during homecoming week. Another was the shower for Mrs. Cyndy Voss, assistant director, whose baby's arrival did not make the deadline. The year was a memorable one. Not one of the 80 girls will ever forget the sense of pride that is felt after a halftime performance. If given the chance to do it again, all 100% would fall in at attention.

A common sight at PN-G football games is the Indian twirlers performing and strutting down the field, all adorned with feathers. Preparation for these performances began during the summer when Mrs. Jan Singletary, from Katy, Texas, spent a week on the Reservation teaching routines that were used during football season.

Activities of the year included performing at football games, pep rallies, parades, and basketball games. The twirlers also participated in UIL twirling where they received a first division rating, qualifying them for state competition in May. To conclude the year, the twirlers helped teach twirler candidates during tryouts.

Indian Band takes Sweepstakes

The Purple Pride of PN-G took the field once again to highlight the halftime activities of the 1979 football season.

The experimental combination of corps-style and military marching excited the crowds and proved to be a success when a Division I rating was brought home from UIL Marching Contest.

As marching season came to an end, students began to prepare for All-Region tryouts, as well as concert season. Margaret Beard was named to the All-State Band. Solo and ensemble participants brought home 70 gold medals.

With March came Concert and Sightreading Contest at Little Cypress-Mauriceville. For the first time since 1975, the symphonic band received sweepstakes with all superior ratings.

After making tours to the area schools and music and uniforms once again put away, the Indian Band closed a successful and memorable year with high standards for future bands to uphold.

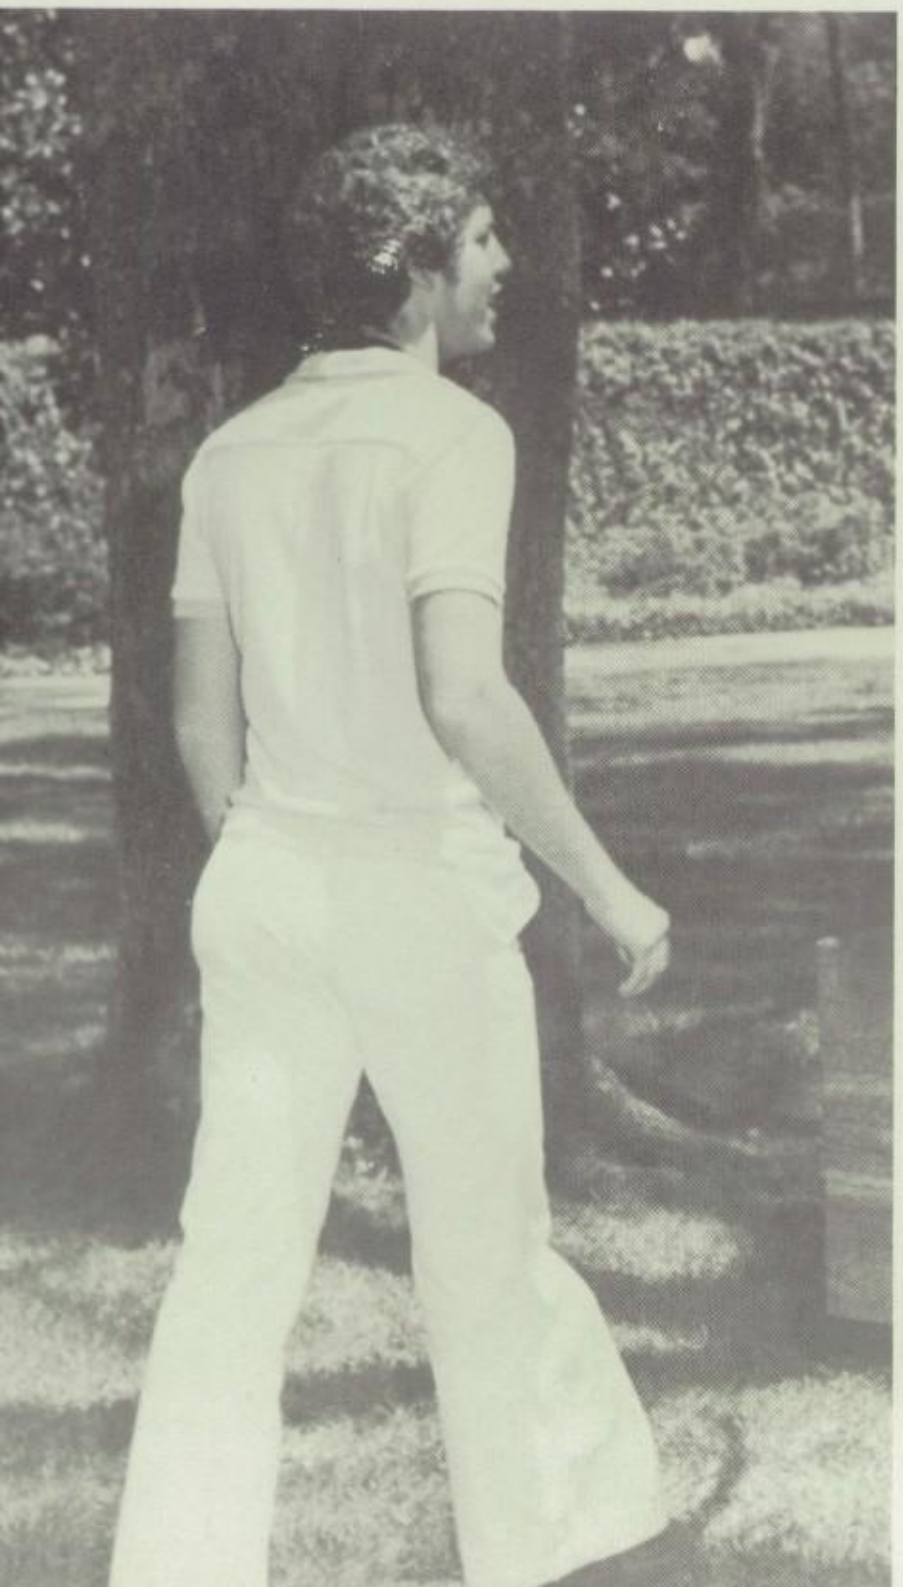
The 1979-80 school year was a busy one, especially in the area of photography. PN-G photographers were shooting, processing, and developing pictures right down to the wire. They were the ones who captured the memories of the school year on film, which in turn allowed us to reproduce those special times in this yearbook.

Student photographers included Kerry Hock and Derek Penny, seniors, and Pat Sheppard and Van Vandenberg, sophomores. They were under the supervision of Mr. Lynn Dickerson.



1980 — Year of action for officers

Four student council officers were elected by the student body to lead the Tribe. During the summer, these officers attended a workshop at Stephen F. Austin University in Nacogdoches. They learned how to become leaders and exchanged ideas with other high school council members on council activities. The point system was continued this year and the highest point holders attended the state convention.

The student council consisted of ten elected representatives from each class along with ex-officio members. This was the second year to have interested students volunteer to participate in the student council meetings and activities. This program helped to involve more of the student body.

Among the first activities of the new year student council hosts a quest for the newly elected members and volunteers which they learn how working together is an important role of student council.

October numbered among its activities the showing of cartoons, a fund raising project. During this month student council also set up a student-faculty program called the Secret Pal Program, which gave the student a chance to express himself without revealing his identity.

During the month of November student council members and volunteers raked leaves for the elderly as a community project. They also sponsored a school activity called the "Big Eye." This program was set up primarily to make the students aware of the need to keep the cafeteria clean. Student Council also sponsored a spirit competition between classes in the form of a spirit chain.

Winter ushered in the holiday season with another community project, "Christ for the Elderly." This project helps provide gifts to the elderly who live in nursing homes. Student council also sponsored a Christmas dance.

February was crowded with activities such as the Mr. Irresistible and Sir Twirp competitions. Every year at this time student council helps present the coronation of the King and Queen.

March winds brought a flurry of activities concerning a safety project. The project was a tire check held in the school parking lot. Student council officer elections are also held this month.

The month of April was showered with more safety projects. One was the "Parking Lot Sweep" to get rid of broken glass and prevent accidents. Also a bicycle safety program was presented at Groves' and Port Neches Junior Highs.

In the final month of school student council presented cartoons to help raise money for Boys' Haven. Student council also presented the teachers with a party at the end of the year to reveal Secret Pals. A Western Day was planned to end the year's activities.

AFS enjoys year with Marlene

Through the American Field Service program, two students visited the Reservation this year.

All the way from Dunedin, New Zealand, Marlene Kelly has made adjustments to become an important member of the Tribe.

She was involved in many areas of school life including serving as manager of the Indianettes, a member of the student council, choir, and participating in journalism.

Also visiting PN-G was Anja Scholz from Herford, West Germany.

Although many at PN-G will never see Marlene again, the memories of this terrific girl from the land of the Kiwis will last a lifetime.

As before, AFS continues to promote International friendship.

The Art Club has been kept quite busy this year, especially during football season.

The group painted one of the two run-throughs used at each football game and, in addition, their poster was selected to be displayed in the boy's gym throughout the year as a result of their winning the cheerleader's annual poster contest. They also worked on several other projects, many of which were displayed in the cafeteria showcase.

The group is under the sponsorship of Mr. Brooks McKenzie.

The Math Club slid their rules and made sense of their numbers this year, all of which led them to several calculated victories.

The Math Club has become notable as being one of PN-G's more successful clubs, sporting over 50 trophies won this year alone. They also claim PN-G's most avid trophy-collector, Lorenzo Presley, who has won nearly twenty trophies, medals and ribbons, including a second-place victory in state UIL number sense competition.

The club competed in number sense and slide rule this year, but next year, slide rule will be replaced by calculator competition, "the contest of the future."

The Math Club is sponsored by Mrs. Clara Graham.

FTA, French Club stay busy

Future Teachers of America led an active year. The goal of the group was to serve the teachers even more than the chapter had in the past, and they met their goal successfully. Their success was proven when the group was presented with a plaque for being the best FTA chapter in the area by the Region V Texas State Teachers Association.

Cindy Richardson served the group as president, and also held the office of district historian until elections were held in November, when Lynda Viator was elected to the same district office.

The French Club is a newly organized club which specializes in cultural experiences. Its members include students in French II and French III classes.

Activities of the French club included viewing a private collection of French art at the Houston Museum of Fine Arts, having a French Christmas dinner, a crepe party, and dining at one of Houston's most authentic French restaurants.

FHA units complete active year

PN-G has three units of Future Homemakers of America representing the school. Throughout the year the groups attended various meetings and conferences. Several students attended the Area IX meeting in Beaumont. Others went to Houston for the state meeting of FHA chapters across Texas.

FHA completed a successful and fun year under the direction of sponsors, Mrs. Mary Jordan, Mrs. Frances Thomas, and Mrs. Elgene Henry, who was later replaced by Mrs. Dorothy Gibson.

On the job training boosts clubs

Office Education Association (OEA) is the vocational course geared for learning office procedures and carrying these procedures out by working at prospective jobs.

Seniors take three solids and a vocational co-op class and go to their jobs after noon. Juniors go to regular classes and take a two-hour lab.

PN-G's health careers class (HOSA) membership reached an all-time high.

These junior and senior students are trained in the field of medical terminology. Seniors attend a one-hour course and report to their part time jobs in hospitals and other medical areas as health aides. Juniors take regular classes and go to a one-hour lab each day.

Distributive Education and the Distributive Education Club of America is PNG's oldest cooperative program. Juniors and seniors are involved in the program which includes jobs in which students deal with the public. These students are released from school at noon to work at their jobs.

PN-G training assures future jobs

Eight classes of VICA (Vocational Clubs of America) at PN-G are growing rapidly. Classes are offered in air conditioning and refrigeration, building trades, cosmetology, drafting, ICT, machine shop, and welding. Most of the classes are a half day in length except for ICT which consists of a one hour class and on-the-job training.

The classes are offered to juniors and seniors who have chosen to train for the future during their high school years.

Indian Singers sing for supper

The Indian Singers began the 1979-80 school year with concerts for teachers, area schools, and community functions that would continue throughout the year.

In addition to the concerts, the group performed on KJAC television at Christmas.

At UIL Solo and Ensemble Contest, the group received a first division rating which qualified them for state.

The group concluded its year with the annual private performance and tears of happiness and sadness because the year had come to an end; yet it was a year of memories.

The Concert Choir had a year full of concerts, rehearsals, and contests.

They performed various types of music throughout the year and the combination of Concert Choir and Indian Singers received an excellent rating for their concert performance at UIL Concert and Sightreading Contest.

Debate, Tribe Troupe record record firsts

For the Debate and Drama Clubs, this year was a year of firsts, with both clubs represented at the University Interscholastic League and Texas Forensic Association state tournaments.

Chris Jimmerson was the first Drama Club member to qualify for TFA state, UIL state, and to be named to the all-star one-act play cast in the same year. Also, the debate team of Ken Garlington and Larry Vincent was the first ever to participate in the UIL and TFA state tournaments.

The Tribe Troupe won first place overall sweepstakes at the Vidor Festival, the Beaumont Charlton-Pollard Festival, and the Educational Drama Association State Festival.

All debate teams won this year at area tournaments. In cross-examination level debate, the team of Ken Garlington and Larry Vincent won third at both the BC-P and Baylor University tournaments. In standard division debate, Sandy Landry and David Pierce won third and the team of Maurita Howarth and Vickie Rachal won second place at the Beaumont Charlton-Pollard tournament.

UIL contests bring gold to PN-G

Practice — the key word for many University Interscholastic League contest participants. Many groups start preparing for the district meet early in the school year while others begin practice a week before! Regardless of how much time is spent in preparation for the contests, it all comes down to one day — the 22-AAAA district literary meet.

Students compete in one-act play, speech, journalism, debate, spelling, number sense, ready writing, typing, shorthand, and science. Although they compete in varied contests, the participants all set their goals to win and advance to the next phase of competition, bringing pride and medals back home to the Reservation.

1980 was a great year for University Interscholastic League contestants. At the district meet held at West Orange High School, PN-G captured the 22-AAAA literary sweepstakes trophy and 13 students qualified for regional competition.

In journalism, Mark Guidroz took firsts in headlines, features and editorials. Mike Freeman was first in newswriting while Kathy Hohmann won third in headlines.

In speaking events, Larry Vincent and Ken Garlington won first in debate while Clare Dunn was third in poetry. Laurie Sanders and Chris Jimmerson took second and third places, respectively, in prose.

Lorenzo Presley placed first in number sense while Michael Barnett took second. Second and third places in shorthand were won by Kim Byrns and Rebecca Woodrom, respectively. Lydia Bishop won third place in science.

At the regional meet held at San Jacinto Junior College, six of the 13 earned the right to compete on the state level.

Those placing at regional were Guidroz, third in features; Vincent and Garlington, second in debate; Jimmerson, second in prose; Presley and Barnett, first and third, respectively, in number sense.

At the state meet held in Austin, Presley finished second in number sense.

PN-G Prom 'Goes Hawaiian'

"Aloha, Seniors" was the theme of the 1980 prom hosted by the Junior Class on April 12 at the Brad Club in Nederland. Seniors were wlecomed by Marty Brack, Junior Class president, and musical entertainment was provided by Get-Down Brown.

Upon entering, each person received a colored lei. The club was decorated with scenes creating an atmosphere of the Hawaiian tropics.

Pictures were taken in front of a grass hut decorated in tropical fashion.

Despite an unexpected tropical shower, it was still an enjoyable evening.

Cheerleader and Indian Spirit tryouts this year took place on April 25 with 18 girls and 5 boys trying out with hopes of being a Spirit leader.

After two weeks of clinic, everyone agrees that it is an experience that is well worth the hard work and practice.

The juniors elected were Laurie Hebert and Karen Lambert. James Cunningham was the newly elected Indian Spirit. The three sophomores were Cynthia Anderson, Alicia Jackson, and Joni Sparks.

This group will join returning cheerleaders Sharon Brown, Shana Sattler, and Liz Street.

As the year comes to an end seniors prepare to vacate their positions and the underclassmen look eagerly forward to "next year!"

Spring activities conclude year

As the year came to a close, work for the Indianettes never slowed down.

The Indianettes kept busy with tryouts during which 53 new girls were selected, competition, in which they received three first place ratings, and the selecting of nine new officers. The girls also presented their annual show, "Our Best to you, Halftime and More," which is a fund raising project planned and organized by the senior girls.

The final event of the year was the traditional Indianette Banquet. Highlighting the night was the announcement of newly selected officers and captain, top ten seniors, junior and senior showmanship, and the Ideal Indianette.

Most people, at least once in their lifetime, aspire to become something for which they are willing to sacrifice almost anything. Indian Twirler is one of these things. For five days, 23 girls sacrificed time, money, their social life, and often a good night's sleep in order to fulfill their dream. The results were announced on May 9, revealing the 1980-81 front line and 8 girls whose dreams came true.

'Looking Glass' broadens scope

The 1979-80 Looking Glass staff had its work cut out for it trying to live up to the reputation the two prior years staffs have made by winning first place in the Scholastic Press Association national contest conducted through Columbia University.

The success of the staff can be largely atrributed to sponsor Mrs. Lavergne McWilliams' organization and distribution of jobs, as can be seen through the many special committees, each assigned to a particular facet of the magazine. The staff also attempted to broaden its scope by encouraging student participation and sponsoring several contests.

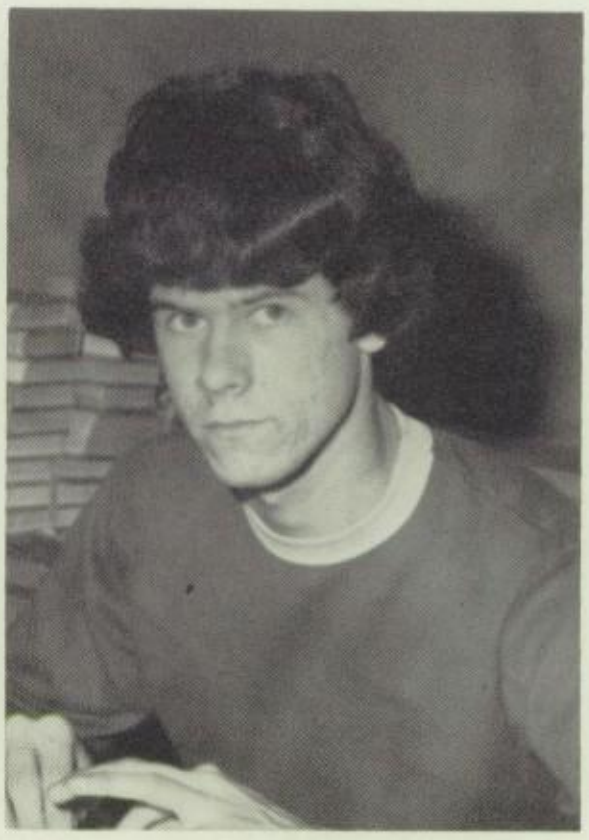
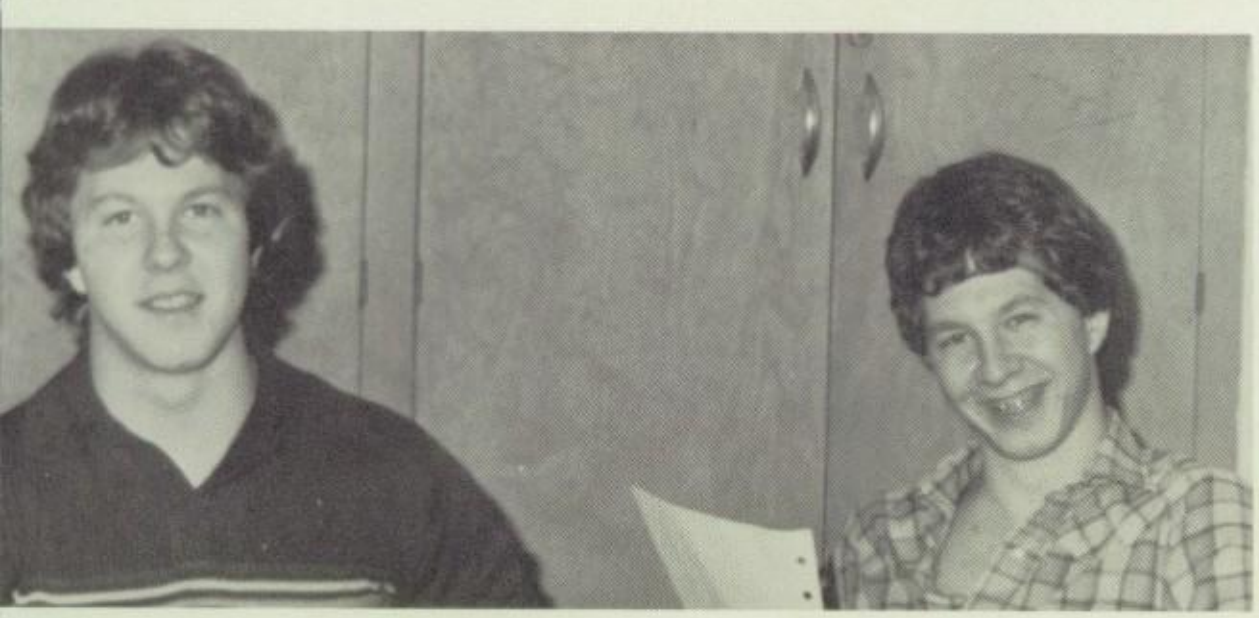
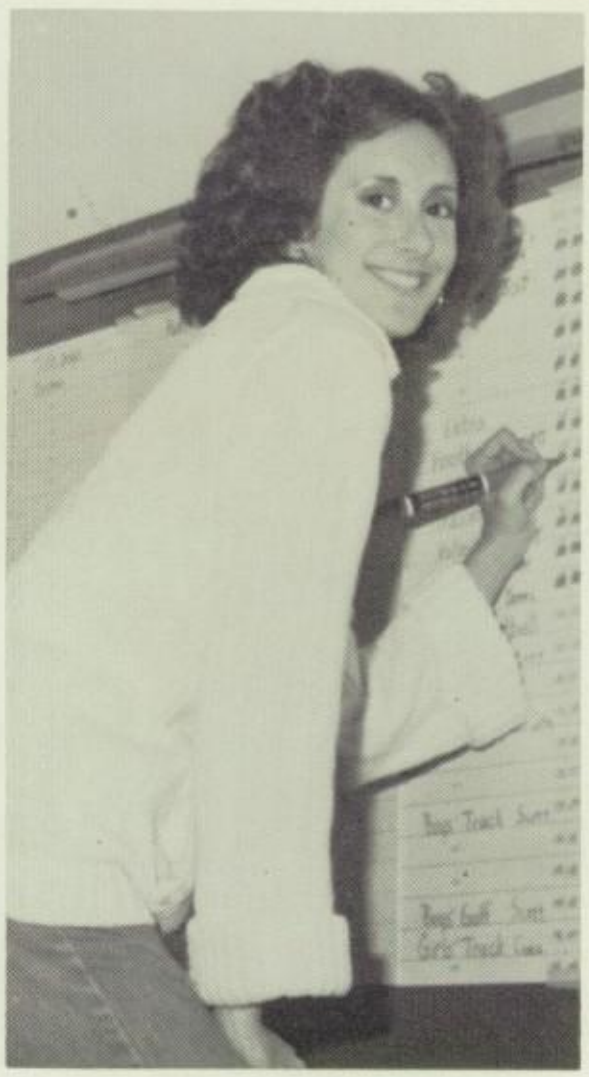
Publications popular at PN-G







When Journalism II students enter room 130 in August, they are in for quite a year. These seniors soon become acquainted with words like layout, quad-pack, copy, and HELP!

We spent second period every day and one very interesting Wednesday night a month compiling the Pow Wow and the 1980 War Whoop you're reading now.

Pow Wow page editors and War Whoop section editors were Shelby Fuller, Julie McDaniel, Wendy Bourge, Mike Freeman, Cindy Farmer, Ray Drake, Cathy Frederick, Jean Godwin, Scott Hall, Lisa Jackson, Connie Moore, Alan Russell, Stacey Sheppard, and Terri Waldrep.

Lisa Palombo spent most of her time typing out the unending flow of copy for both publications especially as the dreadful deadlines approached.

Although at times the going was rough, we remained united under our sponsor, Mrs. Margie Fuller, with a common goal: to give recognition to Indians and their Revervation.

Sometimes we were hard-headed journalists, other times, nuts (as at Mr. Gatti's). But whatever we were, we weren't just another journalism class! We couldn't have had more fun or grown closer during the year than we did as staffers — we'll never forget all the good times. So remember:

CAUTION — Room 130 is a very habit forming place you may never want to leave!

The Organization of Indian Athletes and Association of Indian Athletes are composed of juniors and seniors participating in athletics.

In the fall both organizations sold 196 football cushions. Before Christmas the clubs got together and wrapped boxes and distributed them to the classrooms of PN-G and all elementaries of Port Neches and Groves. The students filled them with canned foods. The boxes were picked up by members within a week, and the officers then distributed boxes to needy families in the two towns. The AIA also sold state champ volleyball stickers to add to the treasury. This money will go to a scholarship fund.

Rock-a-noos take state crown

A season record of 34-1 was topped off by the Rock-a-noos walking away with nothing less than the state crown. The Tribe showing its characteristic poise defeated Thomas Jefferson San Antonio 16-14, 15-5 before an enthusiastically partial PN-G crowd. Before getting into the finals, the Indians knocked off Amarillo High School 15-9, 15-5.

In regional action the Tribe dominated North Brook which left the Indians one match from a trip to the state tournament. The Indians faced Clear Lake, who had handed the Tribe its only loss of the year earlier in tournament play. Revenge was in the air as the Rock-a-noos prepared for action. The Indians fought hard for a close 15-13, 15-6 win over the Falcons which gave the Tribe its ticket to Austin.

Co-Captains Kim Risinger and Cathy Frederick were tabbed with All-district honors along with being named to the All-tournament team in Austin.

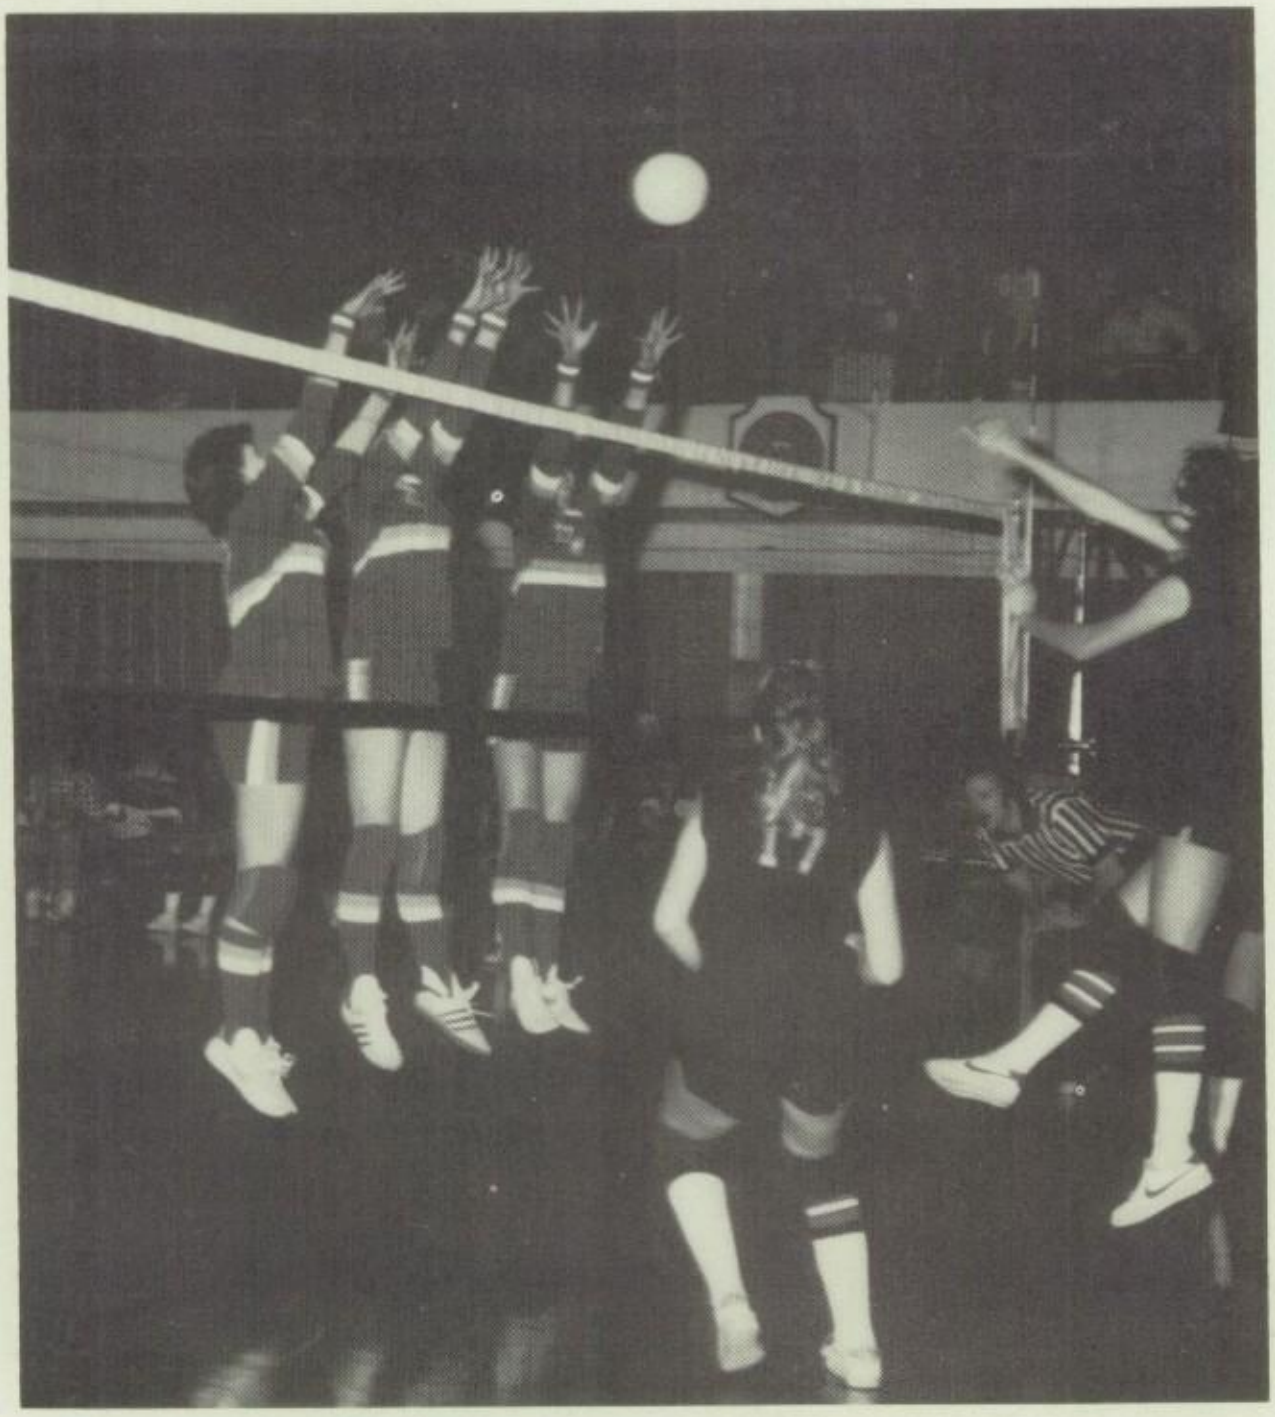
Flawless Indians win district



The Indians were not guaranteed a free ride to the playoffs. Close contenders in district were always posing a promising but unfulfilled threat. The Tribe romped through the first round of district by defeating all teams in two straight games. The Rock-a-noos then faced a slightly tougher second round. The Indians won a close split decision over the Forest Park Trojans who were contending for a second round victory. The Rock-a-noos then wrapped up its second straight district title by defeating arch rival, the Nederland Bulldogs, and ended district play with a perfect 16-0 record.

JV wins crown with 16-0 record

The 1979 Junior Varsity volleyball team captured the district title with a record of 16-0 and a 26-2 season finish.

The Indians participated in three tournaments. They captured two second place trophies in the Forest Park and Nederland tournament. The Tribe then went on and took a first place trophy at the Hardin-Jefferson tourney.

Ms. Shelley Dettman was coach for the Rock-a-noos.

1979 — A season of ups and downs

The Port Neches-Groves Indians entered the 1979 football campaign with a lack of size and experience. The Tribe returned only 10 lettermen and several part-time starters from a 6-4 squad.

For the first time in years, PN-G was not favored to capture the district crown. The predictors proved to be right, but the never-say-die Injuns were playing for the championship in the final seconds of the season against eventual champs, West Orange-Stark.

The season was similar to a roller coaster ride, a series of ups and downs. After two pre-district losses the Tribe regrouped to totally dominate Thomas Jefferson. The game one week later was fumbled away to Forest Park, and then the Indians struggled to a scoreless tie against B-CP on Homecoming night.

Following a triumph over Vidor, the Indians lost to Lincoln and seemed to be all but mathemeatically eliminated from the title chase. However, due to the equality of the district, wins over Nederland and French set up a game with WO-S for the championship.

Although the squad finished with a 4-5-1 record, they are by no means "losers." They performed with pride which is a part of the tradition at PN-G.

Port Neches-Groves opened the football season at Indian Stadium with a 13-3 loss to the Pasadena Dobie Longhorns. The Tribe mounted a 62-yard, time-consuming drive in the first quarter, but were forced to settle for a 28-yard field goal by Glenn Brown. The Horns responded with touchdowns in both the second and third quarters to claim the victory.

PN-G went on the road for its final predistrict contest to challenge Spring Branch Stratford, the defending state champions.

The Spartans took a 7-0 lead on their opening drive, but the Indians retaliated with seven points of their own. Richard Davis raced in from 28 yards for the Tribe's lone touchdown.

Stratford grabbed a 13-7 lead at halftime, and added 14 points in the second half to capture a 27-7 win.

Jayvees strive toward next year

The junior varsity is the group of guys that play on Thursday nights before thinly scattered fans. Although they receive little publicity, many hours of practice are put in to prepare for the varsity level next year.

The JV Tribe ended its season on a low note by losing its final two games but finished with a winning record, 5-4-1. The offensive leaders were Mark Luke, Jan Shook, Clark Driver, Sang Yoo, and Robbie Theis. The leaders of the defensive squad were Jeff Ruddy, Jerry Johnson, and Kyle Segura, who saw limited duty as he fractured his right hand in the third game.

The PN-G managers and trainers are a very special group of guys. Although they get very little recognition for the amount of work they do, PN-G athletes and coaches would certainly feel a loss without their constant support, unending efforts, and valuable time they give to the athletic program.

Whether it's taping an ankle, fixing a helmet, or keeping game statistics, the trainers and managers are always there when you need them.

High expectations not realized

The 1979-80 Indians recorded only 9 wins against 20 losses, but each opponent was aware he had been in a battle. PN-G was acknowledged as one of the finest squads in the district when it came to defense and rebounding.

The highlights of the season included a pair of victories over Nederland, and a nail-biting overtime triumph against Forest Park, which won 24 games during the year.

Many disappointments resulted when the Tribe failed to perform consistently for four quarters. The Indians played on an even basis with Hebert, which won the 3-A state championship, and powerhouse Galveston Ball for the first halves before falling at the end.

To top off the season, junior Monte Wainwright was selected to the first team All-district squad. Mark Lunceford was named honorable mention in his final year.

Coach Don Bryson was unhappy with final record, but was pleased by the determination and hard-working attitude exemplified by his third-year team.

The junior varsity and sophomore basketball teams, under Coach Jerry Hooper, gained valuable experience and, therefore, accomplished their main goal. The JV team posted a fine 20-10 record, while the sophs finished 6-12 despite playing several games against JV teams.

The jayvees were led in scoring by Mark Luke with well over 400 points. Mark Kearns grabbed the most rebounds and trailed only Luke in points scored. The top free throw shooter and ball-handler was John Cannatella. The team won three trophies in tournaments.

Steve Westbrook was the main man for the sophomores. He led in total points and free throws. Larry Linares finished second in the scoring department.

Distance men place consistently

Mark Girouard and Todd Olson took second places in the 800 and 1600 meter runs, respectively, at district. Don Carr finished in the runner-up position in the pole vault. Since each regionalist returns next year, expectations are high.

Field events improve distances

Coach Tommy Tucker's crew shot 641 in the two-day district tourney. Pat Farrow won medalist honors with a 153 total.

The top five at most of the tournaments, including district and regionals, were Farrow, Noonie Hebert, Mark Douglas, Greg Roccaforte, and Doug LeBlanc. The Tribe tied for ninth at the regional contest at the Lake Houston Country Club in Huffman.

PN-G won two pre-district tournaments: the Port Arthur ISD with a 307, and the Conroe ISD with a 302. Douglas won medalist honors in the PAISD with a 71, and Farrow shot 70 at Conroe.

With four seniors graduating from the top five it appears the odds of winning district for the fourth straight time are dim. However, do not be surprised if Coach Tommy Tucker puts together a team capable of continuing the tradition at PN-G.

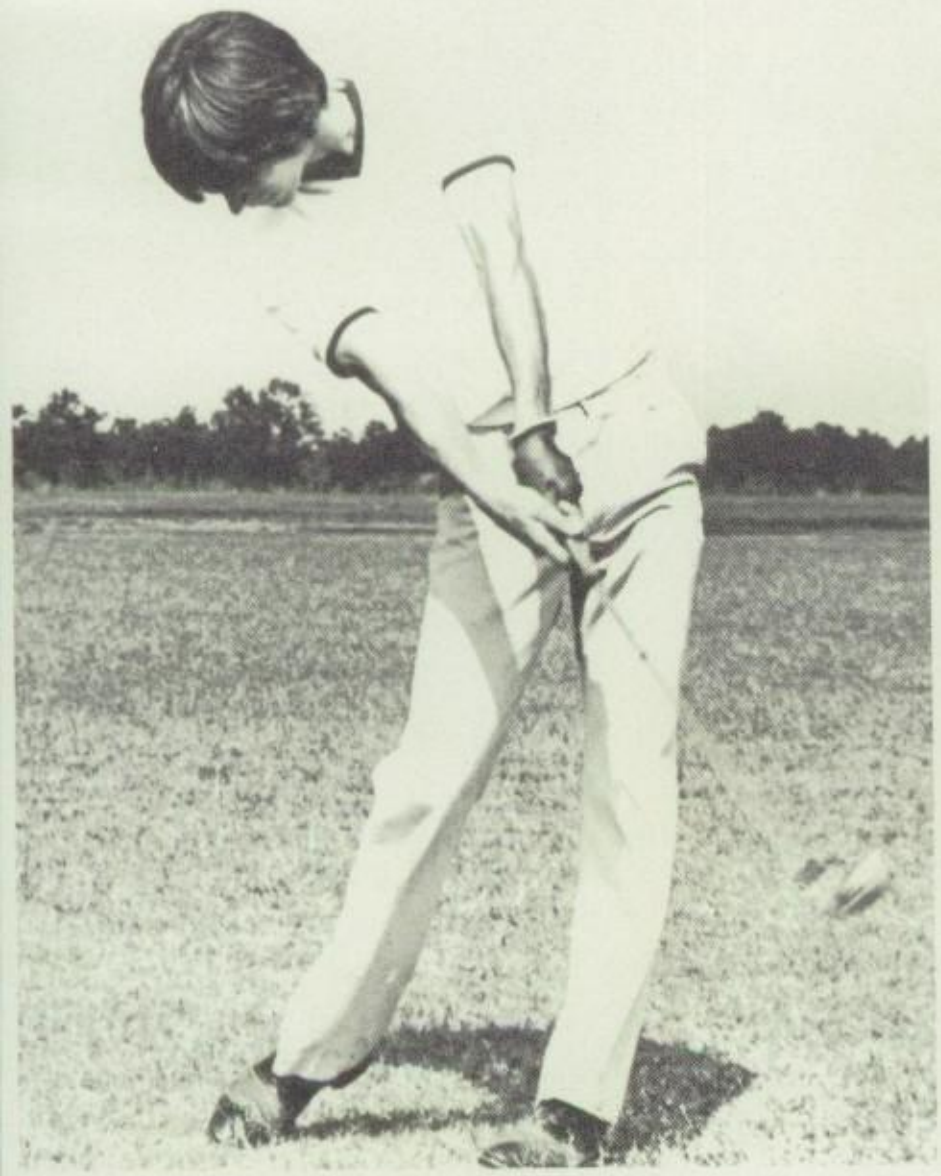
Indians capture district . . . again



The girls track team finished the season placing seventh in district and sent two regional qualifiers to San Jacinto College in Pasadena.

Darlene Daspit competed in the discus and placed sixth. Julie Lough ran the 800 meter and placed ninth.

The Indian track fems participated in three track meets. In the Bulldog Relays they placed second; in the Indian Relays they placed third; and in the largest meet they entered at East Chambers they placed fourth out of twenty teams.

Ms. Shelley Dettman coached the team and Mrs. Diana Cook assisted.

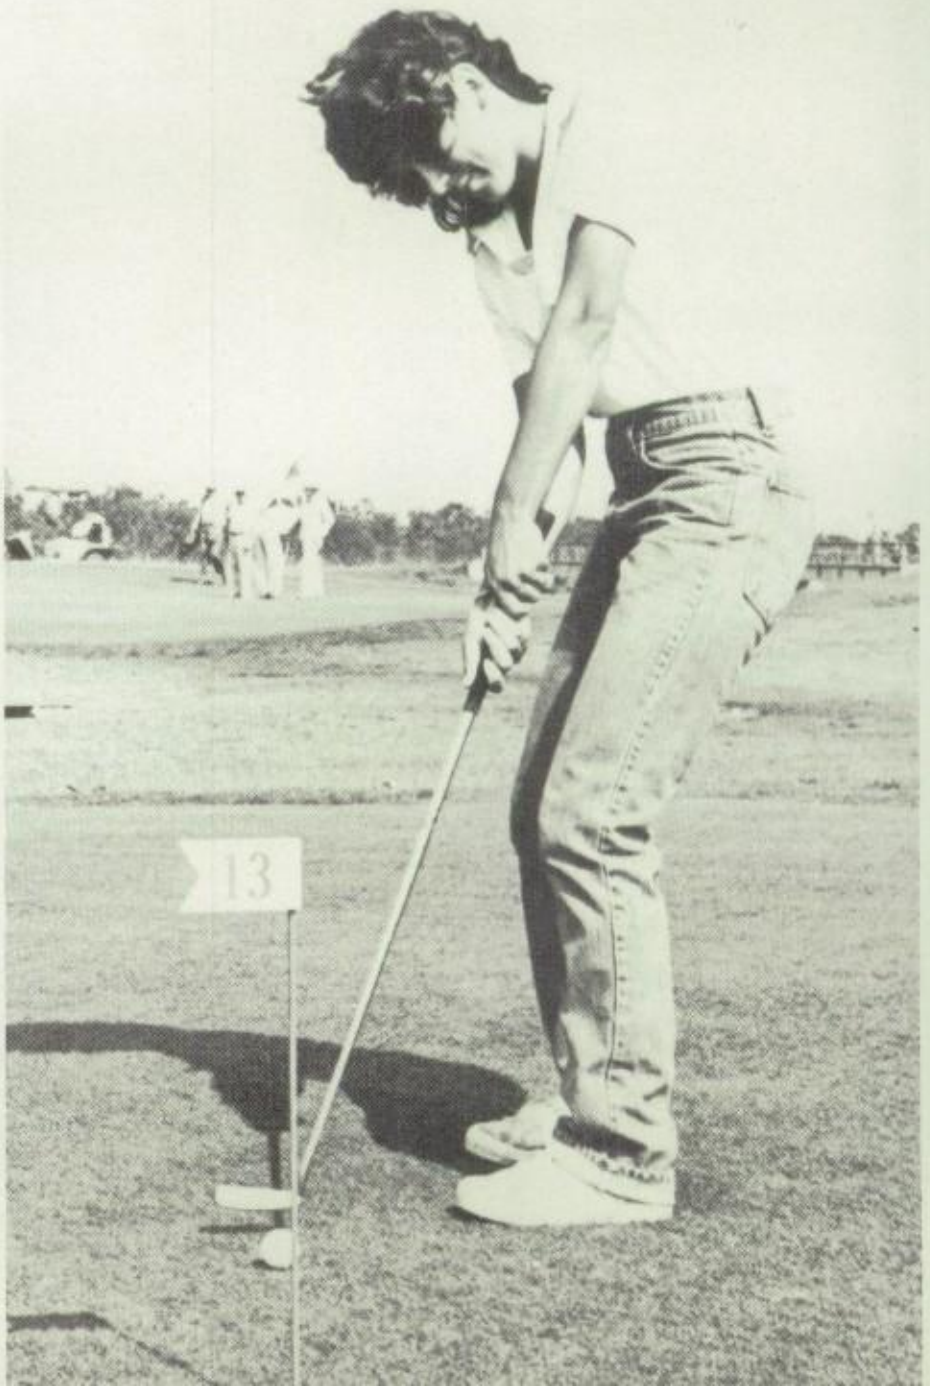
Golfers place second in district



The girls' golf team, in its second year of competition, finished second in district behind West Orange-Stark. This enabled the Tribe to advance to the regional playoffs. Low scorer for the season was Mary Ellen Baskin who also took third medalist honors in district. Kim Risinger followed with a fourth place finish.

The team was coached by Ms. Barbara Comeaux.

The Port Neches-Groves Indian baseball team, led by Coach Butch Troy, had its difficulties during the 1980 season. The Tribe's wins were fewer this year due to a number of errors in key situations. Despite its losing season PN-G did manage to produce some exciting baseball.

Leading hitters for the Indians were Rickey Riley, Brian Hebert, Kevin Deitz, and Darren Lofton. The pitching department was led by John Viator, and David Savarino.

Tribe closes with an 8-16 mark

The 1980 Indian junior varsity under the direction of Coach Lotice Cole compiled a season record of 7-6-1.

Top hitters for the Tribe were Larry Linares batting at a .417 clip; Jeff Landry with a .364, followed closely by Doug Romero batting at .357 and Rusty Ratcliff rounding out the big hitters at .333.

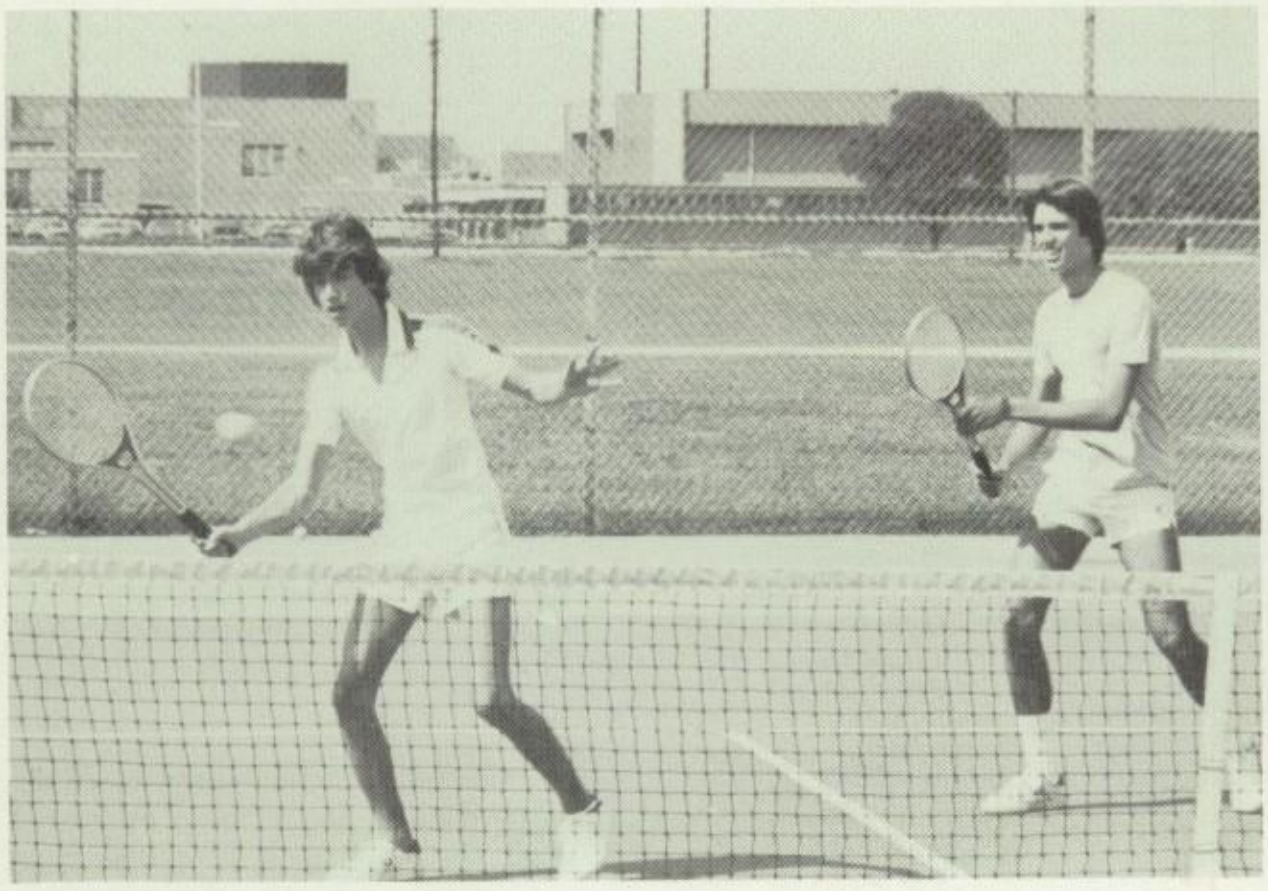
Boys finish second in district play



Under first year coach Steve Comer the 1980 Indian tennis team finished second in district competition. The boys worked out on the courts daily preparing themselves for tournaments and district competition.

The number one singles player for the Indians was Greg Bowen while Mark Rabe ranked number two. Rob Vensel and Billy Brown were the number one doubles team. The team of Wade Graham and Jeff Young ranked second.

First year letterman were Greg Bowen, Billy Brown, and Jeff Young. Two year letterman was Rob Vensel. Lettering for three years were Mark Rabe and Wade Graham.

Girls take third in district

The 1980 girls' tennis team was consistent in that it captured third place in district team competition for the second consecutive year. Winning third place in singles in the district 22-AAAA individual competition was Linda Root. Karen McReynolds came in fourth for the Indians.

Playing singles were Karen McReynolds, No. 1, and Linda Root, No. 2. Kathy Hohmann and Julie Mullican made up the No. 1 doubles team, while playing No. 2 doubles were Kim Adams and Julie Rose. Finishing up the season, due to illness, was the No. 2 doubles team of Kim Adams and Wendy Hinote.

Honor 'em

What does it mean to be chosen to attend one of the Mid-County civic clubs? It means a chance to get acquainted with the members and the purposes of the organization. It also means a nice meal in pleasant surroundings and missing sixth period. The Groves and Port Neches Rotary Club, the Port Neches Lions Club, and the Mid-County Optimist Clubs honor PN-G students, and the students, in turn, feel it is an honor to represent PN-G.

NHS serves community, school

Twenty-seven seniors and twenty-four juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society joining thirty-one two-year members. All were selected for their leadership, scholarship, services, and character.

Under the direction of sponsors, Mrs. Sarita Brink, and Mrs. JoAnne Conn, the group was involved in projects at school and the community.

Leadership merits awards

Each year, at the annual Awards Day Assembly, students are recognized for their outstanding leadership abilities.

To be presented awards such as the Balfour Honor Award, the Golden Torch Award, American Legion Award, "I Dare You" Award, Mr. and Miss School Spirit, and to be named a Century III leader, the student must display qualities of leadership, scholarship, loyalty, citizenship, and character.

He must also give of his time, ability, and energy to the betterment of the school and community.

Outstanding journalistic abilities allow students to be named to Quill and Scroll, Most Valuable Staffers for yearbook and newspaper, and to become National Winners in the Quill and Scroll Writing Contest.

Ability receives recognition

Academics remain on top

Academic achievement is something most strive to attain. Some excel and gain recognition for their endeavors.

Top sophomore is awarded to students completing their first year of high school with a "straight A" average.

Scores made by students on certain tests cause them to become National Merit finalists and recipients of NEDT Certificates.

Excelling not only in academics, but also in other areas, allows students to be winners of the "Voice of Democracy" Contest and the Daughters of the American Revolution Award. They may also be chosen to represent the school at Boys' and Girls' State.

Whether the student is recognized for academic achievement, abilities, or leadership, he has made an accomplishment which proves the students at PN-G to be the best.

To attain the honor of being named a co-valedictorian is one of the greatest possible achievements for a student.

Maintaining a 4.0 average throughout high school is the requirement for this honor and nine students accomplished this in the 1979-80 school year.

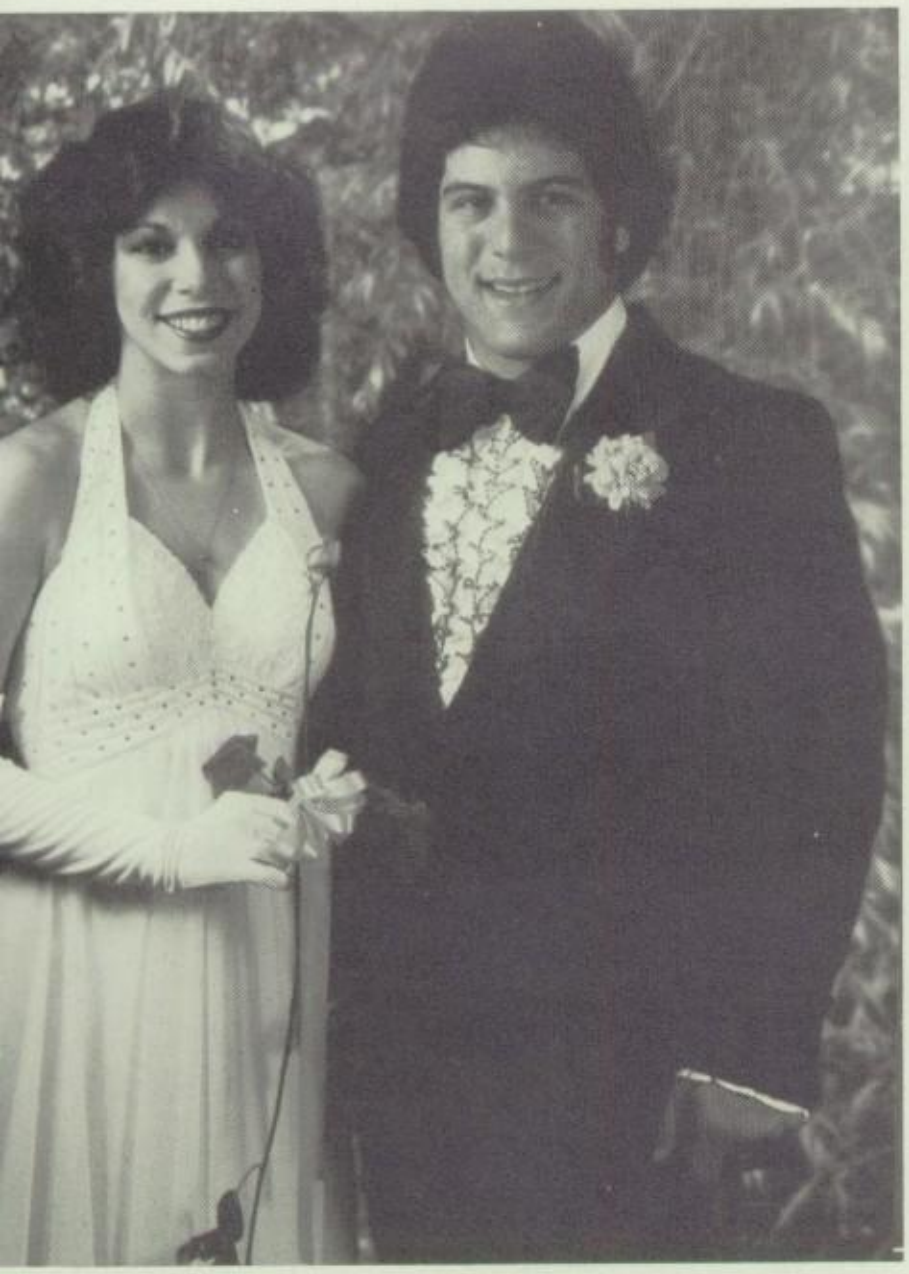
Lisa, Kevin reign in '80



Lisa Palombo and Kevin Palombo, sister and brother, being selected to reign as King and Queen over the Tribe was the highlight of the coronation.

Completing the royal court were Princess Cabrina Quebedeaux and Prince Martin Bruno, Ladies Deena Badon and Terri Waldrep, and Lords Kent Segura and Rory Price.

In addition to the King and Queen candidates, the class and school favorites were also presented. Entertainment was provided by Stacey Sheppard, Craig Boudreaux and Amy Weber and Bryan Gilbert.

Mr. Calvin Raines

Mr. Bruce Thompson

The science wing is complete. The planetarium is impressive. The new classrooms are a teacher's dream. And the scars of construction are slowly fading from the patio. So what will the school board do for an encore?

One thing is sure. They are planning something, for the goal of this group has always been to provide the best for the students of PNISD.

Mr. James Green has served as president of the board this year. Serving with him have been Dr. James Brown as vice-president and Mr. Calvin Raines as secretary. Completing the board were Mr. James Blount, Mr. Harvey Brown, Mr. Tom McFerrin, and Mr. Bruce Thompson.

PNISD is fortunate to have such capable, civic-minded citizens as compose the Board of Trustees to lead 'em.

Dr. Oliver P. Monk

Dedicated to the memory of Oliver P. Monk, an educator whose life was devoted to the education, welfare, and happiness of the students of Groves and Port Neches.

A teacher affects eternity, he can never tell where his influence stops.

Dr. Huff takes reins of PNISD

Following Dr. Oliver Monk as superintendent of PNISD was no easy task, but the district was fortunate to have Dr. Thomas Huff to step into the job, first as interim then as elected superintendent.

Dr. Huff has had six years as assistant superintendent to become well acquainted with every aspect of the operation of the district.

Dr. and Mrs. Huff were welcomed with enthusiasm by faculty and staff of PNISD at a reception early this year.

Dr. Thomas Huff prepares to cut the cake representing his life as an educator at the reception in his honor early this year.

Dr. Thomas Huff:
B.S., M.Ed., Ph.D., Superintendent

Mrs. Ruth Smith:
Secretary to the Superintendent.

PN-G chiefs: the friendly leaders

The Indian leaders led the Tribe through yet another successful year at PN-G.

The 1980 school year marked Mr. Zack Byrd's fourth year as Tribe chief. His friendly attitude and readiness to listen to problems increased his popularity with the student body.

Mr. Wayne Beasley worked to keep disciplinary problems down while assistant principal for instruction Mrs. Emmy Lou Scott, kept the academic levels up.

Mr. James Warner directed student activities, and Mr. Albert Long directed the band.

Mr. Cecil Green, coordinator of crime prevention and drug education; Mr. Don Goza, vocational director; and Mr. Doug Etheridge, head football coach and athletic director; completed the tribal leaders.

Indian counselors student friends

Counselors are very special people at PN-G. Whether a student needs help with a personal problem, with college planning, or with a change of schedule, the counselors are always willing to help.

Miss Juanell Jones counseled the Senior Class of 1980 from its sophomore year until graduation. Mr. Richard Briggs will help the Class of '81 one more year and Mr. Ken Einkauf will handle the Class of '82 for two more years.

This year, for the first time, Mr. Durwood Johnson took over counseling for the vocational programs.

Mrs. Billie Griner, secretary to the counselors, and Mrs. Linda Smith, clerk, help keep the counselors' office organized and help the counselors get their job done.

Services special at PN-G

The people involved in Special Services are very special people who help us learn, assist us in the library and try to keep us healthy.

Mrs. Martha Landrum, Mrs. Suzanne Mondey, Mrs. Reva Johnson, Mrs. Patty Vincent, and Mrs. Kathleen Yosko work with Special Education and resource classes.

Mrs. Deana Wook and Mrs. Carolyn Hooks supply aid to the Special Education teachers.

Mrs. Kathleen Dalby and Mr. David Fendley help keep the Indians healthy. They are always there whenever we have a complaint about our health.

Mrs. Lillian Andrus, Mrs. Fan Brown and Mrs. Barbara Mills are the people in the library when we need help. They assist with finding information needed for that research paper or in finding that certain book.

PN-G has many special people involved with Special Services, all of whom care a great deal about the student body.

Tribe teachers stand behind 'em

The 1980 school year ended with seniors taking their place in the community and underclassmen taking their rightful place on the Reservation. Amidst the shuffling of people, memories of the year and all its activities began to form. However, the most lasting memories are those of our teachers who made this enjoyable year possible.

Our teachers were those special people who worked continuously with us and who took that extra special time to relax and really enjoy us.

These people whom we called teachers and friends also guided us through the rough spots and stood behind us all the way until the light was visible at the end of the tunnel.

As years pass and memories grow dim, many things we will forget. But the memories of special teachers will remain fresh with us as we continue to climb life's ladder of success.

As students we often take for granted the carefully prepared meals and the clean surroundings we are provided with every day. The cafeteria, custodian, and maintenance staffs do a great job in making school a more pleasant place to be.

Each day members of these staffs are hard at work but it seems they always have time to make a friend along the way. In addition they are avid supporters of school activities and are often seen wearing the traditional purple and white.

We are grateful to have such dedicated people at PN-G.

Seniors cherish 'Sweet Memories'

May 27, 1980, the day had finally arrived. Graduation night was the highlight of our senior year, but we gathered in Indian Stadium with mixed emotions. It was the last time the Class of 1980 was together.

The invocation was given by Denise Williams. The President of the Senior Class, John Viator, welcomed all guests to the ceremony. Cabrina Quebedeaux spoke in remembrance of Dr. Oliver P. Monk, and Martin Bruno then introduced the speaker, Mr. Reg Ferrell.

Evelyn Comiskey was named valedictorian of the class, and Mr. Zack Byrd, PN-G principal, announced the Magna Cum Laude graduates.

Dr. Thomas Huff, superintendent, presented the Class of 1980; Dr. James Brown, member of the Board of Trustees, presented the diplomas assisted by Mr. James Warner, Miss Juanell Jones, Mr. Ed White, and Mr. Tommy Tucker. Mr. Wayne Beasley and Mrs. Emmy Lou Scott announced the graduates.

The Indian Singers sang the Senior Class song, "Sweet Memories." After the song, the class officers led us in the benediction — The Lord's Prayer.

Although it was the end of our senior year and our life on the Reservation, it was only the beginning of our lives with each of us taking a separate path.

As the year progressed, PN-G experienced several new and different occurrences. For instance, a swim team was formed, sophomores were initiated in Indian Stadium rather than on the patio, and for the first time since any of us have been in high school, a white layer of snow covered the Reservation.

Also, faculty members gave Mr. Frank Cheek a unique birthday cake, and PN-G's multi-million dollar planetarium was completed and put into use — finally.

As the year came to an end, no one could believe the speed with which our school days went by, especially the seniors. The class of 1980 left PN-G with mixed emotions. We were happy to at last complete that phase of our education, but at the same time we were frightened at the responsibility that was suddenly placed on us as graduates. We were also sad at the thought of having to leave behind a way of life and all of the friends that have been a part of us for three years.
